diagnostic workstation
in the world.

To ensure quality care, your organization must get the right image to the right clinician at the right time...in a cost-effective manner.

For large organizations, you need a solution that is easy to use and robust enough to handle image viewing, DICOM import and exporting to CDs. You also want a tool to meet your unique workflow needs.

For smaller entities, you need a viewing solution that provides a mechanism for primary study reading, study routing, and local and remote archiving.

Now you do.

How We Help You

Flexible in nature, eFilm Workstation can supplement your current PACS workflow or serve as a primary workstation. An FDA Class II workstation, it has many tools including image management and distribution with DICOM Query/Retrieve, CD/DVD burning and auto-routing of studies.

A primary diagnostic viewer with hanging protocols, key images, SUVs for PET/CT, MIP, MPR and more, eFilm Workstation has the features necessary to succeed in today's demanding environment.
